Tech Workshops Announced

We are going to start 2015 with some tech workshops meant to introduce Brandeis scientists to IT and computing tools they may not have used before.

The HPC Workshops for users of the compute cluster will kick off with Introduction to Xsede resources on Jan 22.

The Tech Introductions series will start with a quick Introduction to Python on Jan 28 (repeat session on Jan 29).

There is a calendar you can subscribe to that will list future events as they are added.